Dear friends,
How are things?

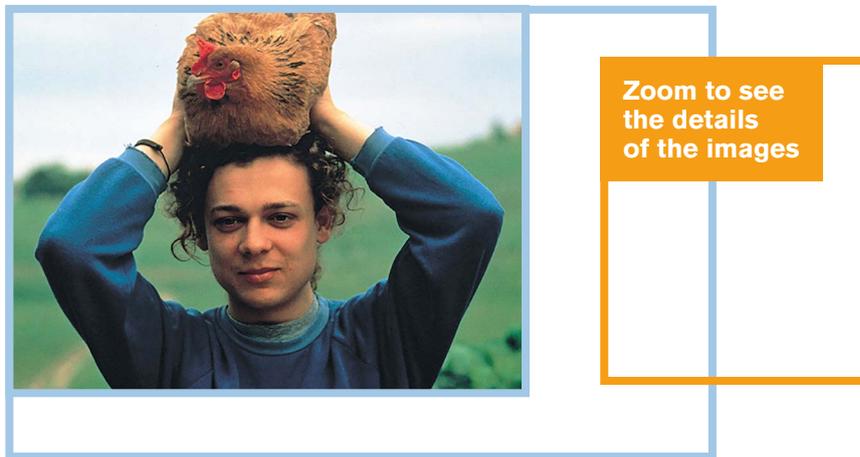

Here I am again, ready to get to work with you. You are amazing and this team is a real winner. I'm certain that even those who have not sent works have been creating spectacular stuff.

Today there is a special surprise in store for you: click on the "discover" button to see our special team photo, the mosaic of your photos that creates the ICON, the logo of Juventus.
In recent weeks many fans have created their J at the site YOURICON, but ours is truly unique because it is the result of exceptional teamwork, where each of you has inserted one portion that is indispensable to reach our goal.

You've been so outstanding that I would like you to take part in another activity, together with me: a real portrait.

Of who? Why of me, of course!

That's right... today I am going to reveal my true identity.
Here I am, a few years ago, with a chicken on my head.

I asked a friend to take this picture of me, because having a chicken on your head helps you to think better. I remember that it was a bit like putting our heads together, and though we could not understand each other, our questioning gazes represented thought.

Now I would like to ask you to do my portrait, starting with this image and – actually – trying to improve upon it. I am curious to know how you imagine me.
Or, starting with this photo that made you laugh, I would like you to imagine what happens next. You can decide to draw only eyes, hair and feathers, or you can decide that I am there with other animals as well.

As in the previous activities, you are free to choose whether to share your work or keep it for yourselves. I can't wait to see how you draw my portrait!

Stay in touch!
I'll be back soon with the final episode!

Diego
